

Good evening Seaman Families,

Hope you enjoyed the beautiful weekend. It finally feels like spring. Last week was an exceptionally busy one. The week began with our fourth graders experiencing an in-house field trip. They had the opportunity to spend a chunk of Monday in a portable planetarium exploring how the earth's rotation impacts many aspects of our lives. On Tuesday, our second graders worked with a science educator from the Department of Environmental Conservation learning about the different classifications of reptiles. Also, on Wednesday, our second graders had their author visit from Nancy Krulik who shared her inspirations for writing and her process. Wednesday evening was our Multicultural Fair which is always an amazing night. This year, the addition of performances celebrating some of the beautiful cultural aspects and countries that our students are so proud of was just awe-inspiring. We couldn't be more proud of our performers. Kindergarten Orientation was Thursday evening and we are so excited to welcome so many new families to our school. As you know, the kindergarten orientation process entails three visits from either parents or students. The kindergarten screening and the kindergarten visitation will take place in May. In addition, our first graders had their Open House on Friday morning. They performed a multitude of songs about reading and writing, and then shared their awesome writing pieces with their families.

Finally, this afternoon, the fifth graders from all three elementary schools came together at Sports Hub, in Syosset, to spend some time together prior to going to Jericho Middle School in the fall. The students will have another opportunity on May 29th, at Unity Day, to get to know each other a little better before they come together as the new Jericho 6th grade. Thanks to our fifth grade moms for organizing this event. Please click on the link below to view Tweets from last week.

Enjoy the remainder of the evening,
Ivy
